Starfish for Students

Our goal at Columbia College is to enable every student to successfully complete their educational goals. What may work for one person may not work for the next. Plan with a purpose, and connect with your instructors and your counselors using Starfish, our online student success portal! Use our easy-to-follow guides to track your progress toward graduation.

What is Starfish?

Starfish creates an online student success environment by connecting students with their instructors, counselors, and other helpful services.

Some of the features of Starfish include:

- Viewing support networks for your classes
- Receiving early alerts for academic concerns and praise for a job well done
- Getting electronic referrals and other messages
- Viewing and following academic plans
- Signing up online for appointments with instructors, counselors and others (coming soon!)
