

Non-Credit Classes

The State Education Code allows Columbia College to offer non-credit courses in designated categories taught by instructors who meet competency requirements. Participants are not charged an enrollment fee as no units are earned, but are required to pay an $18 health fee (amount subject to change). Some classes also charge a small materials fee. Non-credit classes have a discipline as part of their name, e.g. HHP 300.

REGISTRATION FOR NON-CREDIT CLASSES

- A current Columbia College Application must be on file with the Admissions & Records Office. Call 209.588.5231 for more information.
 - You may register using the connectColumbia registration system on the college website prior to the beginning of the class. Complete instructions are listed on pages 10-12 of this schedule. The College website is www.gocolumbia.edu.
- Continuing students are pre-assigned a specific registration date and time to register on the College website. You can obtain your date and time for registration on the website as well.
- Open registration for Spring classes begins December 9, 2013 (see page 6 of this schedule for other dates and times).
 - Registration for late starting classes can be done online, or in person at the Admissions & Records Office, until the last working day prior to the start of the class.
 - After the first day of the class, registration can only be done in person on campus at the Admissions & Records Office. An Add Slip signed and dated by the instructor will be required at that time.
 - Registration may not be done through the mail.
Early registration is recommended to ensure a space in the class.

For registration procedures, call Admissions & Records, 209.588.5231.
